

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo Speaks At Chapel Christmas Service

• CHAPEL CHRISTMAS SERVICE and the presentation of the Messiah high-lighted the annual Holiday Season.

The main speaker of the Christmas service on December 17 was Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank professor of religion at the University and "Clergyman of the Year" in 1957.

The Bible, he said, refers to Christ as many things: the "King of Kings," the "Prince of Peace," and by many other names. But, Dr. Sizoo continued, perhaps the best and most worthy was that of the "Dawn."

DR. JOSEPH SIZOO

The "Dawn" is most applicable, Dr. Sizoo related, because it signifies something new. For once the "Dawn" has begun it can never be turned back. Unlike the sunset, the "Dawn" is the beginning and not the end.

The birth of the Savior over 2000 years ago, he said, is significant because it was, the beginning of a faith that today encompasses one-third of the world's population. In reaching these proportions, it has never been turned back.

In addition to Dr. Sizoo's Christmas message, the chapel service featured a medley of Christmas carols by forty members of the University Glee club.

On December 15, the School of Engineering made the annual presentation of the Christmas tree. Following the tree presentation, the traditional portion of Handel's Messiah was presented by the Traveling Troubadours, the University Glee club, the Singing Sergeants, and the United States Air Force Band.

In a program preceding the Messiah presentation, Ed Rutsch, Student Council president, crowned Elizabeth McGarry and Lilly Spigel, Snow Princesses of 1958. Mary Foster, Holiday Season chairman, announced that 3,091 toys had been collected in the toy drive.

The Student-Faculty Tea was held in lower Lisner lounge. Featured on the program were Professor Roderic Davidson and Mr. Antonio Suescum, student from Panama. Professor Davidson sang Christmas carols of many countries and accompanied himself on the accordion, while Mr. Suescum played the guitar.

At the Orphan's Parties held in Wellington and Strong halls and building J, approximately 200 children were in attendance. The children were presented gifts collected in the toy drive.

Miss Foster termed the Holiday Season "a great success. It was better than even my highest expectations," she said.

I.E.C. Votes May Suspend 2 Fraternities

• THE INTRAFRATERNITY COUNCIL will meet tonight to decide on the suspension of Pi Kappa Alpha and Phi Alpha fraternities.

At the December 16 meeting it was moved and seconded that these fraternities be placed on suspension for continued absences from Intrafraternity Council meetings and failure to meet its obligations to the Council and the fraternity system.

Under the rules of the Council any fraternity placed on suspension shall be ineligible to participate in the rush program or in any other Council activities including Greek Week, the IFC Sing and the IFC Prom.

Insurance
At tonight's meeting final action will be taken regarding the IFC's position on intramural sports. If no definite program of insurance coverage has been formulated by the Intramural Department the fraternities will decide whether they will jointly withdraw from intramural competition.

A report was given by the delegates to the National Interfraternity Council meeting held in Atlanta, Georgia last month. The delegates from the University's IFC stated that approximately 90 per cent of the delegates they questioned came from universities where an intramural insurance coverage program was in effect.

Russian Club Throws Party

• THE RUSSIAN CLUB will present its second annual Christmas party in Lisner lounge at 8 p.m. on Thursday.

The party will be based on a Slavic theme. The program includes Christmas hymns by the Russian club choir, recitations by students, Slavic dances by the Washington folk dance group, an accordion solo, Russian songs accompanied by balalaikas and a medley of Slavic songs led by the choir with audience participation.

In addition, Slavic customs will be described and authentic costumes displayed. Guest speakers include Miss Anna de Kouschin (Russian), Miss Katherine Palic (Czech), Miss Vera Dowhan (Ukranian) and Miss Popovitch (Serbian).

Formed Last Year

The Russian club was formed a year ago under the direction of Professor Helen Bates-Yakobson, executive officer of the department of Slavic languages. The purpose of the organization is to create interest in and knowledge of Russian culture. Members discuss Russian folklore and customs and listen to guest speakers from various Slavic countries.

The club consists of two representatives from each Russian class taught at the University. Members have formed a Russian choir, a drama group and a conversation group. Each year the club sponsors two parties open to all University students, a Christmas party and an Easter party. These two functions culminate the year's events and give members a chance to display their skill in the Russian language and arts.

According to Mr. Irv Hecker, publicity director of the Russian club, a large number of students will be on hand for this year's party. Because food will be served, students planning to attend the party are asked to make reservations. Students may secure reservations from Miss Elizabeth Holmes, EMerson 3-2984, or Miss Joan Calvert, EMerson 2-2789.

Series Highlights Spring Semester

By Roger Stuart

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL sponsored Colonial Program Series will highlight the Spring semester's social and activity events.

Billed for the series will be such attractions as the United States Marine Corps Band concert on February 27, the Panhellenic and Interfraternity sings and proms, May Day, Colonial Cruise and the annual Career Conference.

The annual Activities Fair will be held at 7 p.m., February 20 and will be followed at 9 p.m. by a social dance to be held in the Student Union.

Concert

The U. S. Marine Corps Band concert will break a tradition which has grown up at the University in the past several years. In the past the band concert was given by the United States Air Force Band. The Concert will be held on February 27, at 8:30 p.m.

Highlighting the social calendar for the Greeks in the second semester will be their annual sings and proms. The Panhellenic Council will lead off with their events on the weekend of March 6th and 7th. The following weekend will be taken up with Greek Week, and the Interfraternity sing and prom will follow up on the weekend of March 20 and 21.

A drama program will be given by the University Players on February 13 and 14. An announcement of the play selected for production has not yet been made. The Players who, in the past year, have produced such shows as Arthur Miller's "A View From The Bridge" and the spectacular musical comedy "Guys and Dolls" will undoubtedly come up with another fine production.

The caliber of their "Guys and Dolls" performance was so great during this year's Homecoming season that approximately 300 people had to be turned away.

Follies

Another drama event for the semester will be the All-University Follies to be held on April 17. The Follies should prove entertaining. It will allow the amateur actors and actresses, comedians and comedians a chance to give vent to some of their hidden talents.

The annual Career Conference, co-chaired this year by Alex Heslin and Bill Belford, will be given on April 14. According to Mr. Heslin this year's conference will be slanted toward giving more prestige to the individual forum's speakers rather than to the Key-Noter as in the past.

The Conference is to be broken up into six individual super forums. Hal Bergem will lead the social sciences, Jim Lear will oversee the engineering forum, Bob Higdon the sciences, Bill Watson the professions, Doug Woods the humanities and Bob Lipman the business forum.

May Day

According to Sally Ludlow, Director of this Year's May Day celebration, she will push for a return to the traditional approach in the May Day program. Last year, she feels, the Queen and her court did not reign over the whole affair. She hopes to change this and to put the queen's court

IRC Presents Panel Concerning Japan

• ONE OF THE definitions of democracy contains two basic principles: respect is due every citizen; all citizens must participate in their government.

With these points as background a panel discussion of "Democracy On Trial: Japan" was presented by the International Relations club.

The panel consisted of Mr. Robert Albrook, a member of the editorial staff of the Washington Post; Mr. Robert Kinney, who had lived previously in Japan and is now a lecturer at the University and a far eastern expert with the Department of Defense, and Dr. Kishimoto, a professor at Tokyo University who was currently making a lecture tour in Northern Europe under the auspices of the United Nations.

Presents Outline

Mr. Albrook presented the political outline stressing the post-war development of the conservative liberal democratic government. Although the more radical Socialists and the very minor party of Communists have small hope of entering office within the next decade, whether the Socialists will depends upon the stability of the country. This stability is backed by trade with foreign countries. Thus, any consequential economic or political changes in these countries have their repercussions in Japan.

The primary reason for the liberal democratic's power, according to Mr. Kinney, is that a large part of the voters are small rural land owners who were made contented by the division of the aristocratic landholdings.

Labor Unions

Speaking economically, the post-war years have seen both labor unions (there are more union members there than in the U. S.) and industry (Japan has developed more per year than any other country in any other time) have thrived, the panel brought out.

In retaining democracy both sides of the political picture must be convinced that the other wants democracy. Then a decision by the majority must be obeyed willingly by a minority because of a respect for the majority. Even deeper than this, for the nation to strive for this concept she must have an example of the western world reflecting democracy through a way of life, they concluded.

• PROFESSOR HENIGAN'S SPEECH 141 class, Speeches for Special Occasions, will present a program of "Timely Topics," next Tuesday, January 13th at 3 p.m. in Studio A of Liner auditorium.

These will consist of the best speeches the class has heard during the semester. The students have selected the speeches. Professor Henigan likes to call this a class in, "advanced forms of public address."

According to Tim Mead, publicity chairman for the program, the topics range from an exciting plane crash in the Pacific, a true story by the man who flew the plane, to the story of an Army brat, "And Then We Moved."

There is an Irishman, he continued, who can make a tear well up in the eyes of anyone who has the least bit of sympathy for Ireland. The class has tips on how to do everything from forecasting the weather to analyzing your neighbor's handwriting. Some of the speeches are designed to arouse people into action, he added.

The afternoon, he stated, promises to be interesting, as no other class has done this or anything like it. The purpose of the program is to demonstrate the quality of work being done by the class.

back in its proper perspective.

May Day, followed by the Colonial Cruise the next day, will wrap up the festivities for the year. The Cruise will be taken on the Wilson Line up the Potomac to Marshall Hall picnic grounds and amusement park.

ROTC Ball

On March 14 the ROTC Military Ball, held annually at the Washington International Airport, will climax the social events for the Reserve Officer's Training Corps at the University. At this time the ROTC Queen will be presented. She is elected by the corps and must be selected from among the members of the Angel Flight or the Flying Sponsors.

The annual Dance Concert will be held on April 24 and 25. Led by Miss Burtner, director of the dance production groups, it is expected that they will put on another fine performance.

Perhaps the biggest of activity events in the eyes of the students should be the election of a new Student Council during the week of April 27. Although it is not a social function, each student should attend the Student Council Election Forum to be held on April 27 to familiarize themselves with the slate of candidates.

More than 150 automobiles, including 25 brand name imported cars, will be exhibited at the show.

Miss Harris, an English major, transferred to the University last fall from American University. She graduated from Towson High School in Towson, Maryland, and moved into the Bethesda area where she is presently living with her parents. Miss Harris's future plans include either teaching or work as an airline hostess.

At the University, she is a member of the University Players and had a part in the Players' production of "Guys and Dolls." At American University she was the freshman representative to the Student Government Association. In the past, Miss Harris has done commercial advertising for WAAM radio station in Baltimore, and has worked as a model for the Baltimore Amateur Photography club.

Joan Walsh, a freshman coed from the Washington area, is a liberal arts major with a speech elective. She was voted the most talented of her graduating class at Western high school, and was a semi-finalist in the Miss Washington contest last year. Her future plans include some type of work in the entertainment field.

Miss Walsh is also a member of the University Players and had a role in "Guys and Dolls." Her other activities include the Messiah Chorus, Dance Production groups, Drama club and Delta Gamma sorority, which she is pledging.

Other winners in the contest were Frances Anspach, June Danzinger, Robin Davis, Jayne Garman, Mattie Granger, Linda Greene, Dona Herndon, Jane Houghton, Linda Johnson, Barbara Lewis, Patricia Maloney, Carole Nelus, Jeanie Schaefer, Lorena Stickel and Laura Willis.

Resolved . . .

• THE ARRIVAL OF the 1959 baby has brought on a flood of resolutions for the new year. Some of these will be useful, ambitious, and hard to keep. These lead to thoughtful, hard-working projects. Others . . . ? We would like to see these resolutions take effect resolved that:

- . . . the Redevelopment Plan will be realized by 1963.
- . . . the sororities will be provided with individual houses.
- . . . the campus will be extended to include all properties down to the Potomac River.
- . . . the radio station, WGOW, will receive support.
- . . . someday the entire student body will turn out for a football game.
- . . . all sororities and fraternities will be required to elect one member to attend all Student Council meetings.
- . . . the enrollment will be boosted to 25,000 to fit our spacious campus.
- . . . the police force will be furnished with faulty fountain pens.
- . . . the intramural teams will be provided with insurance.
- . . . Graduate Record Exams will be abolished.
- . . . members on certain student publications will be paid.
- . . . Duke Zeibert will be the new Student Union cafeteria caterer.
- . . . all classroom desks will be provided with foam rubber seats.
- . . . the second floor of the union will be converted into a cocktail lounge.
- . . . the University will be supported by the Federal Government so that students will be enabled to attend free from any cost of tuition.
- . . . Student Council elections be based on competency and not on advertisement and popularity.
- . . . midterms will be cut down to one per semester per course.
- . . . the Marlboro box will be changed so that each organization will have an equal chance in the next contest.
- . . . Student Council co-chairmanships will be compensated so that the Council will not have to extend petitioning.
- . . . free dexadrine pills will be given out before each final exam period.
- . . . Who's Who becomes Who Accomplished What instead of Who Got Into What Position.
- . . . all Homecoming Queens will be as pretty as the last.
- . . . the Tennis, Golf and Baseball teams will become major crowd gatherers so that the University won't lose money on athletics.
- . . . the Baron will become wrestling's "Bad Man" and all his matches will be included in the Campus Combo.
- . . . the Library of Congress set aside certain hours for G. W. students only.
- . . . free coffee and doughnuts be served in the Union every morning by Leo.
- . . . we all get ten glorious hours of sleep every night.
- . . . professors should only be allowed to be advisor to one club each semester.
- . . . the Law School report the grades to its students before the students finish their next semester courses.
- . . . the University Players should put on more plays like "Guys and Dolls."
- . . . more tobacco companies should have representatives on campus so students don't have to shell out for cigarettes.
- . . . some service organizations will become serviceable.
- . . . the bookstore become philanthropic and reduce their prices so books and supplies don't become a major income tax deduction.
- . . . professors should mimeograph their lectures and distribute them to students.
- . . . televised classes should become the custom so students can operate the controls.
- . . . everyone have a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

Joan Ramage, Miss Editor

by Don Willey

• PARAPHRASING A MODERN vernacularism Joan Ramage could be considered a girl who thinks for herself. She has been able to combine many diverse interests into a well rounded college career. Joan is a senior, majoring in zoology, and the editor-in-chief of the University's Cherry Tree.

Joan and her staff are in the process of sending another section of the Cherry Tree to the publisher. While most students will be worrying over final exams, the Cherry Tree staff will have the added problem of turning in this section.

New Edition

When asked about the forthcoming edition, Joan remarked that it should be good and very interesting. She said that this year there has been a definite cut back on written material and an increase in pictures. She stated that the main idea behind this move is that students are more interested in seeing pictures than they are in reading long commentaries. Joan also said that a larger cross section of the University and its activities will be embodied in the May edition. She hinted at a few new innovations that could set a precedent for further publications.

More Money

As editor Joan stated that she has tried to give more responsibility to her staff. She also mentioned that the year book could be decidedly improved with University financial assistance. Joan stated that publication is definitely limited because of lack of facilities. The offices are located on the third floor of the Student Activity Office and she remarked that people can't usually find them.

Culture

Joan has not confined herself only to this publication. She has taken great interest in the Cultural Committee of the Student Council. She feels that students should be made aware of the various activities going on in the city of Washington. She mentioned the Theater Guild student series tickets at reduced rates and the concert series. Eventually some of these activities might come to Lisner in the form of student supported concerts, lectures, and drama series.

Joan has been able to couple her intellectual interest with other activities such as modern dance and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Because of these and other activities she is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon (journalism honorary) and was recently elected to the 1958 membership of Who's Who. Her crowning achievement was being selected as one of the five finalists for 1958 Homecoming Queen.

Cherry Tree Sales:

• STUDENTS INTERESTED in obtaining 1959 editions of the university's CHERRY TREE may bring $6.50 in cash or check for full payment to Pat Gussin in the Student Activities Office any day from 9:00 to 5:00 p.m. It is not necessary for Campus Combo holders to bring their CHERRY TREE slip. These slips may be presented in May when the CHERRY TREE is distributed.

On Campus

by Bob Lipman

• THIS COLUMN EMERGES from a great deal of thought over the Christmas recess and is more of an investigative piece of writing than writing of an explanatory nature.

Over the holidays I looked through previous HATCHETS and found many issues that have died because interest died. This is pretty serious, because if it were not for interest this school would have no extracurricular activities—just a streetcar school with only faculty and classrooms. Fortunately, many students around the University like to think of George Washington as more than just a streetcar school. It is home to many; a community, something to work for and devote their time and efforts to; something that will symbolize more than just four years of books and studies. To these people I would like to address this column. To the people who are advancing the school and want it to be on top, both academically and socially.

Many events have been made into issues this year and soon disappeared from sight. Just to mention a few: There was a selection of male cheerleaders to bolster the squad and improve the morale and spirit of the student body. What happened to them? Have the males succeeded where the females could not? There was also a committee on the Student Council that was going to look into the bookstore problem and submit its findings to the HATCHET. Either there was no report or the Council decided to keep the report without telling the HATCHET.

Then there was the rash of injuries in intramural athletics. People were screaming for protection and many investigations by the Intramural department were made into suitable policies. The Interfraternity council went as far as threatening not to participate if some protection was not furnished. Thus far, there has been no report of any progress in the insurance search.

The most recent idea that has caught fire and then fizzled is the radio station. The proposed station was announced on October 21 and the administration's denial came one month later, November 21. Why? Was the station given a red light because of monetary reasons or was it something else?

Other ideas have come and gone—some lingered and are spoken of in jest, others got lost in legislation or research. An example is the student activities fee. Is it dead? Is there any hope of having the University accept it? Why has it been kept out of the public eye?

Who's Who selections are always bitterly contested and many students are left off and do not receive due recognition. Does anyone know the reasons? What method is used to determine the selection?

Student Council elections are being improved on every year.

BOB LIPMAN

There is always a cry that the selections are not made on the correct basis. Some yell coalitions and others say it is popularity. Is any of it true? Does the Council do its job and does everybody pitch in?

These are the questions that I would like to explore in future columns. These and other events that affect this campus will appear in this column. The how, what, where, when and most important, the why, will be discussed.

Fellowships

• THE UNIVERSITY IS planning to obtain Fellowships recently established under the new National Defense Education Act.

The Fellowships will be awarded for the academic year 1959-1960. Students eligible to apply are those who will get their baccalaureate degrees in February and June. Applications must be in the Office of the Graduate Council, Bacon Hall, Room 201, before the end of January.

These Fellowships will be awarded to students with superior academic records who are considering college and university teaching as a career. The Fellowships are awarded for a three-year term the first year at $2000, the second year at $2200, and the third year at $2400, plus $400 a year for each dependent. Over the three-year period the Fellowship holders are expected to complete their work for the doctor's degree.

Students who are interested in this Fellowship program should see Professor Arthur E. Burns, Dean of the Graduate Council.

Outlook For Your Future

by Elaine Mosel

HI YA, STUDENTS . . .
You say you stayed up all night to study for an exam . . .
And you just found out it isn't until next week?
Y' say you have to go to an interview right after chem class . . .
And you just spilled a decolorizing agent all over your only suit?
And your term paper is due the day after tomorrow . . .
And you also have a physics and a French exam that day?
And you just paid your tuition . . .
So you can't afford to eat for the rest of the semester?
Is that what's troublin' you, student?

Hey, there, kid . . .
You say you haven't read your econ all semester . . .
And you have an exam on it tomorrow . . .
And you can't find your book?
And your mother just wrote a letter . . .
And she said she's coming to visit you during finals' week?
And the tuition is going up next semester . . .
And you just got fired from your part-time job?
And you were invited to join an honorary . . .
But it meets the same hour as your seminar?
Is that what's botherin' you, kid?

Say there, pal . . .
You say you tried to buy some books with a check . . .
But they wouldn't take it 'cause the last one bounced?
And you finally got a date with that real doll . . .
And she just broke it to go out with your best friend?
And you fell asleep studying for an exam . . .
And your cigarette burned a big hole in your notes?
And your history professor is lecturing a mile a minute . . .
And your pencil point just broke and your pen is empty?
And you're in zoology lab on the hottest day of the year . . .
And there isn't any air-conditioning?
And your English professor did not pass you . . .
Because you didn't laugh at his jokes?
And you've been smoking too many cigarettes . . .
And drinking too much coffee?
Is that what you're trying to say, pal?

Well, pick your chin up off the desk . . .
And take a walk in the fog . . .
And application . . .
You'll show 'em all!
You'll never give up . . .
Never give up . . .
Never give up . . .
That course!

GAD! SO SOON AFTER NEW YEAR'S EVE, and I'm asked to write a column. And speaking of New Year's Eve, I wish every night were. Well, I've just managed to survive a champagne flight (the perfect cure for old mauls, ulcers, cigarette salesmen, and how-legged stewardesses) and, although I didn't want to get off the plane (the champagne was so good), I rushed to my little place in the sun here at the Hatchet office, dedicated as I am, to bring you these glad tidings of New Year's Eve parties in the area up for redevelopment.

To begin with, the Citizens' Committees each held various New Year's Eve wakes, at which they all began count-downs. They've decided that if nothing else they can always resort to the A & P method, started in 1953—Atlanta and Peoria. Well on with the less sickening prose.

Many of our Foggy Bottomites changed their social classifications over the holidays. For one, Jan Powers, KKG, is now Mrs. Ted Taylor. Ted, who was erroneously listed as a Sig Ep from Dennison U. in Ohio in last year's edition, is actually a Phi Gam from said institution. This transformation all took place on Dec. 27.

The following people became engaged (and to think it's such a short time before finals): HATCHETeer Bob Lipman, AEPI to Adrienne Epstein; Sigma Chi Bob Sneed to KAT Jan Baldauf, Sweetheart of Sigma Chi; Midshipman Wayne Hildebrand to KAT Clair Smith; Lt. Dave Mitchell, USMC, to KKG Joan Ramage, and SAE alum Warren Barley to KD Sally Ludlow. Next we have those who settled for the lesser thrill of just getting pinned: Sigma Nu Tom McGrath to KAT Ann Conneally (which actually happened about two weeks before vacation set in); KAT Marcia Thomas to KA Ike from Hampden-Sydney; PIKA Marv Gordon to Chi O Judy Wilson; DG Margo Herr to SAE Bob Price, and DG Rolande Boucher to Delt Steve Ridgeway.

The New Year was given a royal welcome at the AEPI House amid the noisy sounds of horns, noise-makers, and clashing bottles. Everyone seems to have had a great time although hardly anyone can remember when the old year ended and the new year began, especially Earl Landau. Among those seen exchanging Happy New Year greetings were Stan Heckman and Evie Celler, Merritt Murry and Brooklynite Bernice Belsatz, Aaron Knott and AEPI Rhoda Ezrin, Marty Herman and Sidney Epstein, Irv Hecker and Barbara Kaplan, Larry Lobl and Fran Seboltz, Eric Mendelsson and his Eskimo women, Rick Silas and Audrey

Mugman, Mel Feldman and Lynn Robinson, Al Ezrin and Suzie Kaplan, Steve Newman and Sheila Spivak, John Brown's body and Ronnie Seboltz, Steve Sandler and Sandy Seboltz, Mike Duberstein and Pat Seboltz, Marty Reichgut and AEPI Sherry Rabinowitz, Marv Sigman and Roberta Seboltz, Herb Ezrin and Sandy Servatore, and, of course, the black sheep—Harold Bergenstein and Terese Mulligan. By the way, Earl, Merritt and Aaron say, "You're welcome."

The highlight of the holiday parties given at the KA house was a two-day New Year's blast. John and Ann Byers and Bill and Mara Watson played hosts for the New Year's Eve party. Evie Hartman showed up dressed as the "New Year" with date John Zier as the "Old." Dick Armstrong long-distanced it from Tulsa where the KAs were holding a party for the whole city. Bob Higdon (Purple people eater) announced his pinning to Pembroke's delight—Sandy Mason. Alex Heslin was there with Zsa Zsa Seboltz. New Year's day was celebrated by the KAs with a cocktail-bridge party at the Avellar's where Dan Curtis announced his pinning to Darnell Hyerle.

The Sig Eps enjoyed a great December with, among other things, a swinging exchange with ADPI. The SEEs and the ADPIs gyrated around the dance floor and the bar while Tom and Chet Gray played the guitar and sang, as usual. The Sig Eps also had a fine Christmas tree decorating party with the center of attention being a pledge-procured tree. The annual Christmas party was one of the biggest blasts that the house with the red door had seen in a long time. The first floor and the basement were packed as the Cotton Kent Quartet supplied the cool sounds. Frolicking in the mistletoe were Keith Hipp and SK Vicky Kuchinsky, Tom Gray and ADPI Candy Donoghue, Fred Gauveau and ADPI Linda Pryor, the new Mr. and Mrs. Ted Taylor, Larry Denison and SK Ruth Holland, and Chet Gray and Thelma Jeppesen. Down stairs in the new cocktail lounge were Ken McMahon and Ann Risher and Art Howard and KD Sue Ford. About 60 people made the scene, with its flowers and super punch.

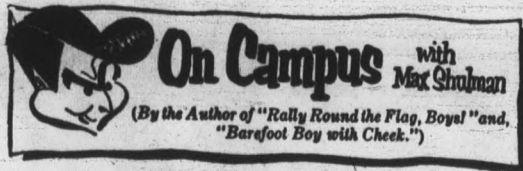

The Sigma Chi house brought 1959 in in good style. Among those spotted around the big Sigma Chi fireplace toasting to everyone's good health were the recently engaged Bob Sneed and Sweetheart Jan Baldauf, Theta, Tom Varley and Kappa Marby Adams, Fran Bernheisel and Theta Lee Rocca, Don Cavanaugh and Kitty Flick, Al Baker and Ann Taylor, Harky Harkleroad and Nancy Cooper, John and Donna Drew, and Wann Gays and Yvonne Shor. Later, after the New Year began, the house was aroused by an invasion led by Hal Bergem and T. C. Aronoff.

And, as usual, the Pikes brought in the New Year with the usual Pike gusto. Spotted there while they were still recognizable were Bernie Pas and Sallie Herrington

(who was giving us all more proof why she should win the 1958 Academy Award for her "Adelaide"). John Beaver and Rosina Orr, Ed Creel and Perry, and Ben Finkel and Chi O Marty Hurd. Lee Jameson would have been there, except that he was having himself a ball in Piedmont, California. That's where Bonnie Borden lives.

And, for the year, 1959, let me give you these wise words of everyone's Auntie Mame: "LIVE! LIVE! LIVE!" That's my New Year's resolution and I hope yours, too. Just think, if you all do, what wonderful Foggy columns we could have. Agh!

THE DATING SEASON

I have recently returned from a tour of 950,000 American colleges where I made a survey of undergraduate dating customs and sold Zorro whips. I have tabulated my findings and I am now prepared to tell you the simple secret of successful dating.

The simple secret is simply this: A date is successful when the man knows how to treat the girl.

And how does a girl like to be treated? If you want to know, read and remember these four cardinal rules of dating:

1. A girl likes to be treated with respect.

When you call for your girl, do not drive up in front of the sorority house and yell, "Hey, fat lady!" Get out of your car. Walk respectfully to the door. Knock respectfully. When your girl comes out, tug your forelock and say respectfully, "Good evening, Your Honor." Then offer her a Marlboro, for what greater respect can you show your girl than to offer Marlboro with its "better makin's," fine flavor and new improved filter? It will indicate immediately that you respect her taste, respect her discernment, respect her intelligence. So, good buddies, before going out on a date, always remember to buy some Marlboros, now available in soft pack or flip-top box at your friendly vending machine.

2. A girl likes a good listener.

Do not monopolize the conversation. Let her talk while you listen attentively. Make sure, however, that she herself is not a good listener. I recollect a date I had once with a coed named Greenleaves Sigafos, a lovely girl, but unfortunately a listener, not a talker. I too was a listener so we just sat all night long, each with his hand cupped over his ear, straining to catch a word, not talking hour after hour until finally a policeman came by and arrested us both for vagrancy. I did a year and a day. She got by with a suspended sentence because she was the sole support of her aged housemother.

3. A girl likes to be taken to nice places.

By "nice" places I do not mean expensive places. A girl does not demand luxury. All she asks is a place that is pleasant and gracious. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, for example. Or Mount Rushmore. Or the Taj Mahal. Or the Bureau of Weights and Measures. Find places like these to take your girl. In no circumstances must you take her to an oil-cracking plant.

4. A girl likes a man to be well-informed.

Come prepared with a few interesting facts that you can drop casually into the conversation. Like this: "Did you know, Snookiepuss, that when cattle, sheep, camels, goats, antelopes, and other members of the cud-chewing family get up, they always get up hind legs first?" Or this: "Are you aware, Hotlips, that corn grows faster at night?" Or this: "By the way, Loverhead, Oslo did not become the capital of Norway till July 11, 1924."

If you can slip enough of these nuggets into the conversation before dinner, your date will grow too torpid to eat. Some men save up to a half-million dollars a year this way.

Buff Third In Carrousel; Whip Generals

Buff Secure Lopsided Win

THE WASHINGTON & Lee Generals made it appallingly clear last Saturday night that they have de-emphasized sports although they traveled all the way from Lexington, Virginia for a basketball lesson from Bill Reinhart's Colonials. At the end of the scrimmage held at the Fort Myer Gymnasium the Buff were on top 86-37.

However the 1200 fans who attended this nothing brand of basketball may have witnessed either the most amazing strategy ever used by a losing side, or the least hustling team to hit these parts.

Trailing by over 30 points in the second half the Generals took so long to bring the ball down court that their own fans began a series of countdowns. But this and other stalling tactics enabled W&L to keep the colonials from getting over the 106 points they scored in the first W&L game.

Generals Play

In the opening of the game it seemed doubtful whether the Generals were going to play at all, but after falling behind 10-0 Frank Surface got the idea of the game and managed to sink a shot to put W&L on the scoreboard. Later Phil Palmer, W&L's center got hot and scored a two-pointer to make it 18-4.

Toward the end of the game even the officials seemed discontented, and decided to add interest to the game with their whistles. One fan is sure he heard "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" by the referees.

Colonial Exhibition

Although not much of a contest the game was watchable as an exhibition by the Colonial team. G. W.'s starting five were something to see as they hustled up and down the court. With their fast-breaking, ball stealing tactics the Colonials made the Generals seem worse (if that is possible) than they really were.

Howie Basch led the scoring parade with field goals and two foul shots for a total of 18 points. Bucky McDonald and Bill Telasky were right behind with 17 points each. McDonald hit for seven field goals and three charity shots, while Telasky scored eight goals and one foul shot. Gene Guarilia and Sam Knisley scored seven points apiece.

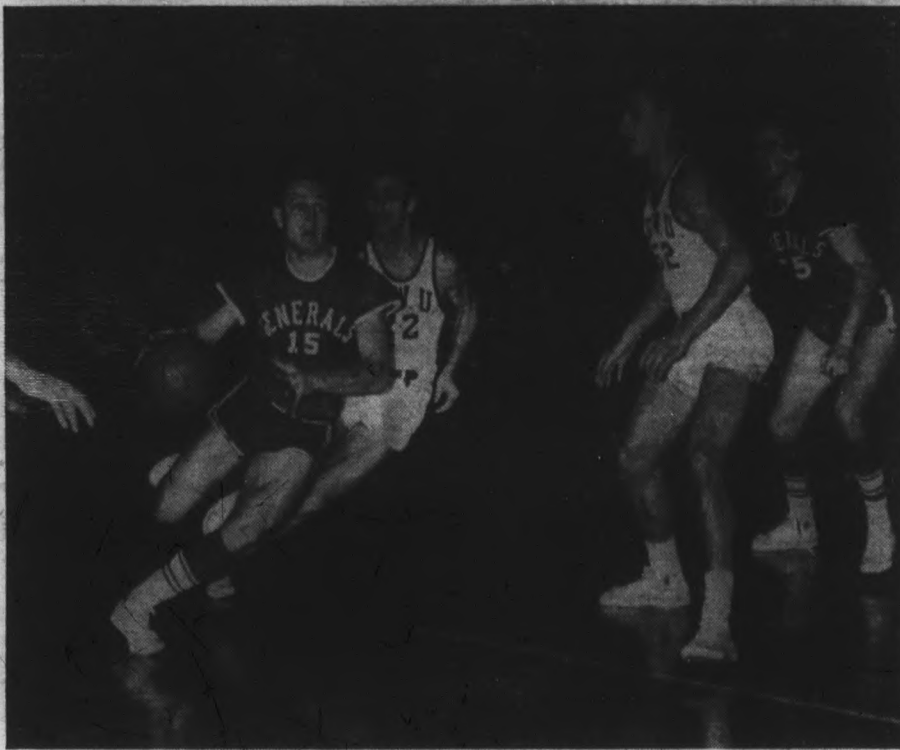

The Colonials outshot the Generals throughout the game, and at halftime had made 54% of their field goal attempts.

Generals Have Trouble

The Generals had a great deal of trouble cracking the Buff zone defense, and as a result had to shoot a good portion of their shots from beyond the foul circle. They wound up the first half making about 25% of their shots.

In the second half coach Reinhart substituted freely, and the whole bench had a chance to play. G. W. fans were able to get a taste of next year's squad, although the final lineup is not yet out.

G. W.'s bench showed a good deal of promise, but it lacks polish. Bill Ingraham covered the backboard nicely as he gathered

... Yes, Virginian, W&L did get the ball on occasion in last Saturday's game at the Ft. Myer Gym. General (It says so on his shirt) Frank Surface carries the ball against G. W. Guarding him is Bill Telasky (22) and Sam Knisley (52), and looking on is Rockie Gaut. The Generals didn't do too well against the veteran G. W. team, but even worse, they didn't even try hard. The Buff took the game 86-37.

In eight rebounds in the final minutes of the game, and Babe Marshall and Ron Deardon also showed promise.

Blame Administration

It is unfair to place too much blame on coach Bobby McHenry and the ten Generals who have now lost six consecutive games. The real blame lies with the administration of Washington & Lee University which has made its varsity teams no more than high class intramural squads.

Top man for the Generals was Frank Surface with 12 points, five field goals and two free throws. Center Phil Palmer was next with two goals and six charity shots for 10 points. The Generals played without their best man, Mal Lassman who has been benched for being late after the Holidays.

Chess Team Wins

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON University Chess Team won a match against the Arlington Chess Team 5-3 Friday night in the basement of the Arlington Unitarian church. Arlington, who finished third in the league last year, had beaten the University players in their two previous matches.

Furman Has Largest Arena

When Memorial Auditorium became the basketball home for Furman's Paladins Dec. 1, the University had the largest playing arena in the Southern Conference, according to the 1958-59 Southern Conference Winter Brochure issued this week.

The new Auditorium seats 9,000. Uline Arena in Washington, D. C., home of the George Washington Colonials, is next with 7,500.

Third is Mountaineer Field House, home of the West Virginia Mountaineers, Morgantown, W. Va. It seats 6,800.

THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC Association sponsored the participation of G. W. in a sports day at Hood College at Frederick, Md. The morning was devoted to sports activities including archery, hockey, volleyball, and tennis. Lunch was served, and was followed by entertainment and a swim in the Hood College Pool.

Colonial Closeups

by Bob Lipman

THE COLONIALS MISSED the brass ring at the Carrousel Tournament in Charlotte last week when they lost to a fair Fordham team, 70-67, in overtime.

Not that the Buff didn't make a fair showing taking third place in the eight team tourney, but this was G. W.'s first opportunity to sparkle and they just showed a bit of promise. Fordham's Rams lost to St. Francis in the finale which didn't help G. W.'s standing too much.

Thus far, the Colonials sport a 6-2 record, not bad, but not good for a team that was slated by many sportswriters and Buff adherents to achieve some national prominence. But the season is young and the bulk of the Colonial's schedule lies ahead. Teams like St. Johns, Maryland, West Virginia and Georgetown remain to be played. A terrific win streak for the remainder of the season would definitely vault G. W. back into the public eye. A few years ago with Joe Holup the Colonials made it to the top ten in the country. Now, with a team that is far better balanced and has greater potential the Buff should return to the top ten.

If Reinhart and cronies miff this season it will be a long and bitter fight before G. W. is ever back on the national sports scene. Football at G. W. is on the Southern Conference level which is pretty poor and this year's basketball team graduates with no great hopes in the near future. Baseball, of course, is always a winner for the Buff, as is tennis and golf, but the only sports that hog the headlines and make the money are football and basketball.

Yet there is no reason to panic, because the bulk of G. W.'s games are against weak Southern Conference opponents. Weak is actually an archaic word in relation to the Southern Conference in basketball. West Virginia and G. W. have generally been strong, but now emerging as strong basketball teams are the likes of The Citadel, V. P. I. and William & Mary. But the Colonials shouldn't have too much trouble this year in the Southern Conference. It will still be between the Colonials and the Mountaineers for the Conference Championship.

Gene Guarilia, Bucky McDonald, Bill Telasky and Howie Basch, the bulwarks of the team, will have to put out a great deal of effort in January. The Colonials play seven opponents, including St. Johns, Georgetown, Boston University and West Virginia, not to mention final exams at the end of the month.

This year's team differs from most Colonial squads. Depth is present though reserves have been lacking from most basketball teams in the past. Backing up the starting five of Guarilia, McDonald, Telasky, Basch and Sam Knisley are Ralph Kunze, Babe Marshall, Ron Deardon, Larry Usiskin, Jim Walters and a few others. All the reserves got a chance in the Washington & Lee farce Saturday night. If this was shades of next year then it is going to be a long, winless season because the Generals battled our reserves almost on an even keel. It was a very poor, sloppy showing by the Buff depth and it would be a real tragedy if any of this year's regulars get hurt before the season ends.

The Washington & Lee game proved that the team can get support if the squad wins. More than 1,200 people showed up for a game that was not widely publicized and played during the holiday season. The army may have had a lot to do with the figures, but the G. W. side was packed.

McDonald and Telasky, eloquently termed the "backcourt brats" by the athletic department, are waging a tight race for scoring honors. Telasky has a slight edge, about six or eight points. The contest should prove interesting and maybe give the boys a little extra spark.

West Virginia has the edge on the Colonials for the Southern Conference championship. If the Mountaineers can gain a split in the two games this season and not lose to any other Conference opponent the Buff are out of luck. G. W. lost to William & Mary in their opening game.

Colonials Bow To Rams 70-76

THE COLONIAL Cagers took third place in the Carrousel Tournament held December 29-31, at Charlotte, North Carolina. The Buff lost a chance for a place in the finals when they bowed to Fordham, 70-67 in an overtime period.

In its opening game of the Tournament G. W. defeated Clemson 72-63 after outscoring the Tigers 24 points to four in a nine-minute period early in the second half.

Fordham beat Pittsburgh in their opening round to face the Colonials in the semifinal round.

G. W. Takes Lead

In the opening minutes of the game the hustling G. W. squad threatened to take the contest in a walk. The Buff took an 11 point lead in the first seven minutes of play, but by half time it had leaked to eight points.

In the second half Fordham continued to chip away the Buff bulge, and finally with only nine minutes remaining the Rams tied it up. The lead see-sawed back and forth for the next few minutes, but Fordham pulled ahead with a little over two minutes remaining in the game.

Now it was G. W.'s turn to come from behind, and it did by virtue of free throws by Bucky McDonald and Gene Guarilia.

In the overtime Fordham forward Ed DeGroat stole a Colonial pass and on a fast break put the Rams in front 65-63. The Colonials were unable to catch up this time and Fordham won the spot in the finals.

Eight Game Statistics

High man for G. W. in this game was shared for Basch and McDonald with 17 points each. Guarilia trailed the leaders with 12 points, and Knisley was next with 10.

In the third place consolation game G. W. swamped Davidson 74-49.

G. W. guard Bucky McDonald was named to the All-Carrousel Tourney team and ended up with 55 points to take top scoring honors.

Buff To Meet Saint Johns

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON basketball team will meet its most serious challenge this Saturday at Uline Arena when it meets the nationally rated Saint John's squad. This match will come on the heels of Friday's game with Boston University.

St. John's coach Joe Lapchick has a seasoned team led by All-American prospect Alan Seiden, 6-6 Lou Roethal, 6-5 Bernie Pascal, and Gus Alfieri. Last year this same squad sported a 19-8 record, including an 83-67 triumph over George Washington.

This year St. John's has a 10 and one record. Its single defeat came early in the season at the hands of Bradley 71-68. Since this early defeat the Redmen have beaten Hunter, Virginia, Temple, and Dayton.

Seiden and Jackson Score

In the Temple game Al Seiden scored 22 points to lead St. John's to an 81-76 victory. Also in that game Tony Jackson scored 15 points and cleared 16 rebounds. Jackson came back in the Dayton game with 29 points as the Redmen picked up a 76-63 win in the ECAC Tournament. Seiden was second scorer with 21 points. Jackson made 50% of his shots, and most of them were from between 15 and 20 feet out.
